

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is an example of what happens when media oversight isn't.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. However, their decision to require tht all 62 of their stations run a political program, "Stolen Honor" and attempt to pass it off as news is a blatant political statement and a direct challenge to the laws governing political reporting.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. If they are allowed to perpertrate this upon the American people then the FCC will have abrograted their responsibility. Thank you.
